An app for creating interactive, student-centered classrooms

LoiLoNote School provides a virtual workspace where users can save information as multimedia cards. Cards can be arranged and grouped like a mind map, helping students organize their thoughts and providing a birds-eye view of what has been learned. These capabilities encourage active learning and creative energy in the classroom.

Compatible with tablet PCs taken outside the classroom, shooting, touch editing, announcement!

With LoiLo Education, you can shoot, edit and present on your tablet PC in one.

Bring it out of the classroom, such as observing experiments and checking physical education forms, taking pictures, comparing them, putting them together, and adding texts ...

There are many use cases for subject learning that could not be done in a PC classroom.

Children can also use PowerPoint for video creation video

Until now, many teachers have misunderstood that some people who are skilled in PC operation do it. However, with LoiLo Education, anyone without expertise can operate intuitively without any explanation, and anyone can make videos.

Video production is not just about acquiring skills. Making videos on the school floor has elements that will help children develop their thinking and judgment. In addition to language activities, learning activities can be
